

The BACCA 4th Friday Concert Series

at the BACCA Performing Arts Center, Lindenhurst, NY

Friday, June 25, 2010 at 7:30PM

Rupert Wates

Rupert Wates in his own words: “Born in London, I’ve been a full time songwriter most of my waking life and also in many of my dreams. I signed a publishing deal with Eaton Music in 1994. I’ve done stints as a journalist, travelling to Europe, the far east and the US. Moved to Paris in 2001 and lived there five years. Since fall 2006 I’ve been based in the US, first on the west coast and lately on the east. I play 100-150 live shows a year. In 2008 alone I covered more than 15,000 miles, with gigs in almost every state. People have been nice or I’ve been lucky, and I’ve received over twelve songwriting awards. I’ve made three CDs since coming to the States, ‘Coast To Coast’, ‘Dear Life’, and now in 2010 my most exciting project to date: ‘Joe’s Cafe’. So far they’ve had some good reviews. If you’d like to read some of the reviews they’re on my blog. Over the years I’ve also had pretty consistent radio play, and been on TV a few times, too. All this is just a way of saying that I’m glad to be here. So is my music.” Visit Rupert at www.rupertwates.com.

and

Edwina Lee Tyler

Edwina Lee Tyler is a multi-faceted percussionist who has toured throughout Europe, Africa and Korea. She has performed at Alice Tully Hall, the Brooklyn Academy of Music and Lincoln Center with the Dance Theater of Harlem.

Edwina was also Director of the Percussion Ensemble at D.T.H. on Broadway in Death of a Kings Horseman and won a Bessie award for her achievements as a composer for dance. Edwina’s uplifting performances have often been described as a spiritual jubilation!

Admission: $10 • Doors open at 7:00

The show begins at 7:30 with a half hour open mic. Our featured performers start at 8:00. Light refreshments (coffee, tea, cookies and other baked goods) will be available.

The BACCA Arts Center is located at 149 N. Wellwood Avenue, Lindenhurst, NY 11757. For more information, contact the BACCA at: babylonarts@optonline.net 631-587-3696 or visit our website: www.babylonarts.com